

Forceful Faith

“Mo, fix your eyes on Me to avoid tripping.’ Yes! That’s it! Because we love Him..”

sometimes when our everyday lives with work and school and raising a family and such can get overwhelming, we have to take in account how we feel about Jesus, and then make Him our focus, and when we do that; we won’t fall away. Then, actually, The Word says; with Him as our focus and reason for not giving up, we not only avoid making a mess of our lives, we are blessed as well!

Wow, I never thought of it like that. It was almost like God was saying to me the same thing He has said many times before, and He has used tons of other scriptures to point it out; “Mo, fix your eyes on me to avoid tripping.” Yes! That’s it! Because we love Him, we are able to persevere!

Then, He took me to Matthew 11:12 that reads; “From the days of John the Baptist until now, The Kingdom of Heaven has been forcefully advancing and forceful men lay hold of it.” I meditated on that for a little while as well, and thought;

It takes me being forceful, right Lord? What does that mean? Not ugly forceful, but forcefully certain that if

I don’t share the gospel with the lost (because it’s not always easy), and other people don’t share the gospel with the lost, (because it’s not always easy), the lost remain lost. I have to be forceful in my advance, forceful in love.

So, fix my eyes on Jesus so that I don’t grow weary and give up; then forge ahead covered with the love of God so I can share that love with the lost. Yes Sir! I’m up for it Lord. Put me in coach! 🦋

Chapter 11 in the book of Matthew really spoke to me today. I felt like God was dealing with me kind of like a high school football coach would his teammates who started to get tired by half-time and needed a little pep talk. It was very early this morning that God woke me and I thought; “Ok Lord, what is it?”

I felt God telling me to persevere. It was like He was encouraging me to keep doing what I’m doing, no matter how tiring and frustrating full-time ministry can get. First He showed me Matthew 11:6 that said; “Blessed is the man who does not fall away on account of me.” Well, I meditated on that for a few minutes and I thought. You know,
